NEOCLEAN-P Cleaner Notice of Discontinuation

Dear Customer,

Thank you very much for your continued patronage of our products.

We are contacting you at this time to inform you that the manufacturing of the optical connector cleaner “NEOCLEAN-P” (formerly known as OPTIPOP P), will be terminated.

Regarding the above mentioned cleaner, we have continued in our efforts to continue selling this product up until now. However, due to the discontinuation in the production of the raw material needed, production has not been able to be continued.

While we regret this action since it arises from our own situations, we will be terminating sales of stock..

We apologize for any inconvenience, but we would request that you circulate this memo to relevant departments within your company that may need this information.

Best Regards.

Memo
